DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Perkins (237,587). Perkins shows a means capable of displaying the position of an animal's head relative to a vertical line having a horseshoe shaped element a; a connecting means C, a display unit A comprising a window (the space within A) and an indicator B which is on a hinge within the window A and would pivot in and out of position depending upon the tilt of the horse's head from vertical.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Perkins. Perkins does not show the use of a wingnut. The Examiner takes Official Notice that replacing one type of threaded fastener with another or with another fastener of a different method is well known common knowledge. With respect to claim 3, to use a well-known

wingnut in place of the bolt system of Perkins would have been obvious to one skilled in the art as a replacement of functional equivalents.

TL

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 4 and 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Included for further reference are: McCue (275,927), McAlpin (832,921) and Wheat (6,643,999).
